Code of Conduct Summary

High-level summary of conduct, privacy, and regulatory expectations.

Code of Conduct Summary

This summary outlines the conduct, privacy, and regulatory expectations for GWTrack members and Greatway Financial Group associates. It supports a professional, ethical, and compliant culture across the team.

Purpose

Follow these standards when representing yourself, your team, and the agency in client work, recruiting, mentoring, training, and portal use.

Professional conduct

- Treat clients, prospects, teammates, mentors, and leaders with respect and honesty.
- Communicate clearly and professionally in messages, calls, meetings, and presentations.
- Do not misrepresent products, compensation, ranks, licensing status, or company affiliations.
- Keep commitments you make to clients, mentees, sponsors, and CFMs.
- Escalate concerns early to your CFM, sponsor, or agency leadership when issues arise.

Ethics and integrity

- Put the client's best interest first in every recommendation and conversation.
- Never pressure, deceive, or withhold material information to close a sale or recruit.
- Avoid conflicts of interest, and disclose them when they cannot be avoided.
- Do not falsify activity logs, production entries, checklist completions, or training records.
- Protect the reputation of the team by modeling coachable, accountable behavior.

Licensing and compliance

- Only discuss or sell products you are properly licensed and appointed to offer.

- Keep licenses, E&O, AML, CE, and carrier appointments current in GWTrack and with regulators.
- Follow all applicable insurance, privacy, anti-spam, and advertising rules in your jurisdiction.
- Use approved materials, scripts, and disclosures whenever required.
- Report compliance questions or potential violations promptly to leadership.

Privacy and data protection

- Collect only the personal information needed to serve a prospect, client, or trainee.
- Store client and prospect data in approved systems — never in unsecured personal files or public channels.
- Do not share private contact details, FNA data, or account information without authorization.
- Use GWTrack access only for legitimate business purposes within your permission scope.
- Report suspected data breaches or unauthorized access immediately.

Portal and team systems

- Keep your GWTrack profile accurate, including contact details, licenses, and photo.
- Use tasks, checklists, CRM, and mentoring tools honestly and on time.
- Do not attempt to access records outside your sponsorship hierarchy or assigned permissions.
- Protect your login credentials and never share your account.
- Treat support tickets, messages, and coaching notes as professional business records.

Mentoring and leadership expectations

- CFMs and leaders coach with clarity, fairness, and confidentiality.
- Confirm checklist items only when the work is truly complete.
- Provide constructive feedback and document decisions that affect trainee progress.
- Do not use mentoring authority to pressure personal favors or unethical activity.

Area	Expected standard
