Data Ownership & Privacy

Each associate owns their prospect data. Prospects are not visible to peers — only to the associate, their upline CFM, and the AO. When an associate transfers to a different upline, AO/Admin controls data visibility transitions.

PRIVACY Prospect records are private by default. An AO or Admin must explicitly grant additional visibility if required for team operations.

10 BEST PRACTICES

Prospecting

- Enter every prospect contact within 24 hours of the initial interaction to maintain accuracy
- Use the notes field to capture personal details — preferences, concerns, decision timeline
- Set follow-up reminders immediately after each contact so no prospect falls through
- Move prospects through stages promptly — a stale pipeline is an inaccurate pipeline

FNA Best Practices

- Never conduct an FNA from memory — always open the FNA module during the client meeting
- Complete all fields, even optional ones — partial FNAs create compliance risk
- Upload signed documents within 48 hours of the appointment
- Discuss FNA results with your CFM before submitting for feedback

CFM Mentoring Best Practices

- Conduct minimum two coaching sessions per month per active trainee
- Log session notes immediately — delayed notes lose critical detail
- Always confirm action items with trainees in writing via the Messages module
- Flag concerns to the AO within 48 hours — do not wait for the next regular check-in

Training & Compliance

- Complete mandatory training before its due date — avoid last-minute submissions
- Print or export your completion certificates and retain copies
- Review your compliance checklist every Monday to catch upcoming obligations early
- Ask your CFM or AO before skipping any compliance step — waivers must be documented
